

Are assured of big returns for time spent in the perusal of our advertising columns. Only the advertisements of reputable firms offering desirable merchandise are accepted.

The Mahoning Dispatch.

VOL. XL. NO. 8.

CANFIELD MAHONING COUNTY, OHIO, MAY 26, 1916.

ONCE A CUSTOMER

Of our Job Printing Department always one. Large or small orders are assured the same careful attention at prices compatible with the quality of the product. We solicit your valued orders.

$1.00 A YEAR

WASHINGTONVILLE

Brief Items Which Chronicle the Doings of People in the Village Bordering Two Counties.

BY CLARENCE BAKER

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Senior, last Friday, a fine baby boy. Candidates for a county office are passing their cards around town. Mrs. Samuel Platt and daughter Elizabeth were in Salem Saturday evening. Ike Yoder and wife of North Lima spent Sunday with Mrs. Lydia Frederick. Wm. Bailey and family of West Point visited relatives and friends over Sunday. John Zentz of Alliance called on Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeJane Tuesday afternoon. Carl Welkard moved his family Wednesday from Leontonia to his property here. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roller of Cleveland were guests of relatives here over Sunday. Misses Jennie Maxwell and Freda Paisley were Alliance callers last Saturday afternoon. Miss Blancher Heintzelman is employed at the home of Mrs. J. T. Brooks in Salem. Master Lester Davis of Alliance is visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis. Miss Mabel Barton of Salem attended camp at Dukesville here last Thursday evening. Mrs. Harvey Baker and daughter, Miss Myrtle, were Salem visitors last Saturday afternoon. Miss Mabel McDonald of Steubenville is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Richard Dunn, for a few weeks. Earl Klingensmith of Youngstown visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Klingensmith, over Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nealey of East Palestine visited her mother, Mrs. Winifred Baker, over Sunday. Mrs. Percy Tetlow and children of Leontonia spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Carrier. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lewis of Youngstown were weekend guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis. Mrs. S. C. Temple of Garrettsville was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Joseph Fitzpatrick, last Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Welkard and little daughter of Leontonia spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Wm. Welkard. Miss Myrtle Fynes of Youngstown was the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fynes, Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Clint Taylor of Cleveland were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor, last Thursday evening. Mrs. Gullery and daughter, Miss Marie, of Youngstown spent Sunday with her daughter, Mrs. Ed. Lixell, and family. Charlie McCarty of Leontonia bought the Jack Wells property and will move his family into it as soon as possible. Mrs. Sarah Fisher and daughter Elsie and Allen Dairymple of Youngstown attended commencement Thursday evening. Mrs. Margaret Williams will have a public sale of household goods at her home Saturday, June 3, at 12 o'clock m., eastern time. George Firth and family, Jack Boston and family and Arthur Johnson and family enjoyed an outing at Pine Lake last Sunday. Fred Grimm of Salem stopped over between trains Wednesday morning enroute to Canfield to attend his grandfather's funeral. Wm. Platt had his face burned by gas last Saturday morning while working at the Grafton furnace and has been off duty this week. Mr. and Mrs. Eli Slagle and family of near Greenford and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boston of this place spent Sunday with Frank Boston and wife. Mrs. Charles Underwood of Lisbon was called here to the home of her mother, Mrs. Booth, who fell and broke her shoulder and collar bones while returning from town last Saturday morning. The Woman's Home Circle met at the home of Mrs. Frank Paisley in Leontonia Wednesday night. The evening was spent in music and a concert. The hostess served a dainty lunch. Mother's Day services at the Methodist church were well attended last Sunday evening. There was a recitation consisting of a few recitations and special music by the choir after which the pastor, Rev. Chalmers Cope, gave a fine talk for the mothers. There was an exciting ball game on the Foresters' field last Sunday when the Foresters' team met with the K. of P. team. Following was the lineup: F. of A.—H. Stouffer, C. W. Fallow, P. M. Welkard, I. B. Welkard, 2b, L. Atkinson, 3b, W. Kyrer, ss, W. Tetlow, lf, E. Carley, cf, A. Senheiser, rf, K. of P.—I. Davis, c, E. Indermill, p, A. Caluch, 1b, R. Stouffer, 2b, C. Woods, 3b, A. Brown, ss, P. Candie, lf, H. Bell, cf, C. Gilmore, rf. Score by innings: F. of A. 0 1 0 2 1 8 0—14; K. of P. 0 1 0 2 1 0 0 0—6.

Commencement exercises of the high school were held in the school auditorium last Thursday evening. A large audience being in attendance. Each of the nine members of the class delivered a most creditable oration. The address "Character and Ability Leads to Success," was delivered by Hon. Andrew O. Fleming of Youngstown. Mr. Fleming's talk was based on three things: Character, Industry and Intelligence. It was a finished effort. The stage was beautifully decorated with potted plants of the class colors, pink and white. Clint Taylor of Cleveland presented the class with a beautiful basket of pink and white carnations and two of the teachers, Misses Whitney and Myers, gave them a large bouquet of pink and white carnations. The carnation was the class flower and the class motto was "Character and Ability Leads to Success." The school house made a fine appearance. All the rooms being lighted. The teachers and pupils have much to be proud of at the close of this year.

Fred Davis bought a new Ford this week. George Firth bought a victrola for his pool room, Wednesday. Harvey Baker is employed at the Grafton furnace in Leontonia. Lewis Baker of Salem is visiting his son, Harvey Baker, and family. Rev. Stevens will preach in the Lutheran church next Sunday morning and evening.

James Herron and wife of Calla spent Sunday with his brother, Chas. Herron, and family. They are free for everybody and suitable prizes will be given. An ice cream festival and dance will feature the evening program. Everybody is welcome.

Don't forget the big doings of the Foresters' Sporting club next Tuesday. There will be two ball games with East Palestine, one at 10 o'clock a. m. and another one at 3 p. m. races at 1 o'clock p. m. The races will be a 100 yard dash, 50 yard dash, sack race, three legged race, bicycle race, 50 yard dash for girls under 16 years of age, wheelbarrow race, greased pole, pie eating contest and others. They are free for everybody and suitable prizes will be given. An ice cream festival and dance will feature the evening program. Everybody is welcome.

Elmer Brooks, south of here, captured a quail looking for a hen in a chard last Wednesday. It is about the size of a half-grown hen, blue feathered, long talons and a red beak. It bears some resemblance to a heron and may be a species of mud hen. It is exhibited in a cage in front of one of the stores in Canfield.

J. F. Cable, aged 80, who conducted a newspaper here in 1848, came here in his auto last week from Van Wert to see some cemetery work being done at the grave of his sister.

The western part of Carroll county resembles Stark county, from which it was taken in 1848. The northern part resembles Columbiana county, from which it was taken at the same time. The lay of the land around Carrollton is much like that at Washingtonville.

The primary rooms of the Carrollton school held Maypole exercises upon the school campus Friday afternoon. Music was furnished by a graphophone. The kiddies were dressed as though Ephraim Wilson had trained them. About 800 persons witnessed the exercises.

You might mention it to Harry Holland, Harry Hartzell, David Klingensmith and other berry growers about Washingtonville that the crop of strawberries here looks well, and that I count the days until shortcakes are due. Yum-yum!

Town people in great numbers spent most of last Sunday in the country gathering wild flowers. The sentiment is good, but how would we in town like to see the country people coming into our gardens and plucking our flowers?

It is gratifying to note that Andre Woods is improving from pneumonia. The young man has had the "pep" to pull through other plural attacks without a whimper. He is a model young man with no bad habits, and ought to live to a ripe old age.

It has been a long time since I have had any word from Scotch friends, David Summerville and Andrew Muir, but trust they are still among ye in good health. And here is wishing long life to Mrs. Euphemia Maxwell, of whose garden sassa I have eaten many times.

At the county spelling contest held in Carrollton last Saturday Emmett Manfull of Augusta township was declared the best speller in the county. He received a prize of $10 with which to pay his expenses to Columbus where he will represent Carroll county in the state spelling contest on June 2. Manfull's grade was 99. Archie Markley of Carrollton made the second highest grade and was awarded a prize of $5. Only 45 entered the county contest, as the rural schools were poorly represented; two townships were not represented.

The memorial sermon to the local G. A. R. post and other patriotic orders will be preached in the Methodist church by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Sunday. In addition to the union choir and pipe organ the church brass band will furnish patriotic music for the occasion.

Carrollton has a population greater than that of Leontonia; we have no saloons; the mayor works in the rubber plant and the village marshal is more than 81 years old. We have more people over 75 years than any town of its size in Ohio. Twenty-five years ago this place was about the size and importance of Washingtonville, but after the five saloons were voted out it began to grow to its present size and business importance. Now we have too few houses to shelter the people.

It is a place for sad reflection to visit an old and abandoned cemetery in the country, and in the "valley of dry bones," amidst the scenes of death and desolation, to hear the birds sing their solemn requiems o'er the graves of the departed, and to see the sun to inhale the rank fragrance of the illac. Then to read the quaint inscriptions: "Gone but not forgotten" or some quoted passage from the bible or hymnal. We call to memory the once popular verses of Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," and find them true.

Nearly all of us ride some hobby; and hobbies, like measles and smallpox, must break out. I will let mine break out thru the columns of The Mahoning Dispatch. Here is a question: If playgrounds and parks are a good thing for our children, why would they not be equally good for country dwellers? The national government recognizes the importance of reserving some parts of our domain for public parks, but why are they nearly all located in the West? We have 44 national parks and a grand total of 7,290 square miles. Chicago has over $150,000,000 invested in her parks and playgrounds not including boulevards. New York has 175 parks covering 9,000 acres. Cincinnati has 47 parks and playgrounds valued at $5,500,000 with 2,403 acres. Columbus has, besides the state fair grounds (which will likely become a state park) 280 acres. The Ohio superintendent of public welfare said in a letter April 17: "Parks and playgrounds are as essential in the country as in the city." There should be law authorizing at least 80 acres for public use in every township, so that grange and township picnics could be held thereon and country people could compare notes and drive away dull care. PETER M. HEROLD.

The Carroll county fair grounds are in use for some purpose the year around; for at least half the time the track is used for speeding horses, and I have yet to learn that any horse-owner ever got into the J. I. G. class.

Every township should have a high school and a picnic ground, and what the people need they usually get some time.

Eleven more new houses are under construction in Carrollton. The rental prices here range from $12 to $20 a month.

Rev. J. B. Manley of the M. E. Church preached the baccalaureate sermon to our 19 grades in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. The class was dressed in caps and gowns furnished by the board of education. High school picnic at Oneida on Saturday. Mostly rads and frills.

Dogs are taboo in Carrollton. All not listed for taxation and at large are killed.

Elmer Brooks, south of here, captured a quail looking for a hen in a chard last Wednesday. It is about the size of a half-grown hen, blue feathered, long talons and a red beak. It bears some resemblance to a heron and may be a species of mud hen. It is exhibited in a cage in front of one of the stores in Canfield.

J. F. Cable, aged 80, who conducted a newspaper here in 1848, came here in his auto last week from Van Wert to see some cemetery work being done at the grave of his sister.

The western part of Carroll county resembles Stark county, from which it was taken in 1848. The northern part resembles Columbiana county, from which it was taken at the same time. The lay of the land around Carrollton is much like that at Washingtonville.

The primary rooms of the Carrollton school held Maypole exercises upon the school campus Friday afternoon. Music was furnished by a graphophone. The kiddies were dressed as though Ephraim Wilson had trained them. About 800 persons witnessed the exercises.

You might mention it to Harry Holland, Harry Hartzell, David Klingensmith and other berry growers about Washingtonville that the crop of strawberries here looks well, and that I count the days until shortcakes are due. Yum-yum!

It has been a long time since I have had any word from Scotch friends, David Summerville and Andrew Muir, but trust they are still among ye in good health. And here is wishing long life to Mrs. Euphemia Maxwell, of whose garden sassa I have eaten many times.

At the county spelling contest held in Carrollton last Saturday Emmett Manfull of Augusta township was declared the best speller in the county. He received a prize of $10 with which to pay his expenses to Columbus where he will represent Carroll county in the state spelling contest on June 2. Manfull's grade was 99. Archie Markley of Carrollton made the second highest grade and was awarded a prize of $5. Only 45 entered the county contest, as the rural schools were poorly represented; two townships were not represented.

The memorial sermon to the local G. A. R. post and other patriotic orders will be preached in the Methodist church by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Sunday. In addition to the union choir and pipe organ the church brass band will furnish patriotic music for the occasion.

Carrollton has a population greater than that of Leontonia; we have no saloons; the mayor works in the rubber plant and the village marshal is more than 81 years old. We have more people over 75 years than any town of its size in Ohio. Twenty-five years ago this place was about the size and importance of Washingtonville, but after the five saloons were voted out it began to grow to its present size and business importance. Now we have too few houses to shelter the people.

It is a place for sad reflection to visit an old and abandoned cemetery in the country, and in the "valley of dry bones," amidst the scenes of death and desolation, to hear the birds sing their solemn requiems o'er the graves of the departed, and to see the sun to inhale the rank fragrance of the illac. Then to read the quaint inscriptions: "Gone but not forgotten" or some quoted passage from the bible or hymnal. We call to memory the once popular verses of Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," and find them true.

Nearly all of us ride some hobby; and hobbies, like measles and smallpox, must break out. I will let mine break out thru the columns of The Mahoning Dispatch. Here is a question: If playgrounds and parks are a good thing for our children, why would they not be equally good for country dwellers? The national government recognizes the importance of reserving some parts of our domain for public parks, but why are they nearly all located in the West? We have 44 national parks and a grand total of 7,290 square miles. Chicago has over $150,000,000 invested in her parks and playgrounds not including boulevards. New York has 175 parks covering 9,000 acres. Cincinnati has 47 parks and playgrounds valued at $5,500,000 with 2,403 acres. Columbus has, besides the state fair grounds (which will likely become a state park) 280 acres. The Ohio superintendent of public welfare said in a letter April 17: "Parks and playgrounds are as essential in the country as in the city." There should be law authorizing at least 80 acres for public use in every township, so that grange and township picnics could be held thereon and country people could compare notes and drive away dull care. PETER M. HEROLD.

The Carroll county fair grounds are in use for some purpose the year around; for at least half the time the track is used for speeding horses, and I have yet to learn that any horse-owner ever got into the J. I. G. class.

Every township should have a high school and a picnic ground, and what the people need they usually get some time.

Eleven more new houses are under construction in Carrollton. The rental prices here range from $12 to $20 a month.

Rev. J. B. Manley of the M. E. Church preached the baccalaureate sermon to our 19 grades in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. The class was dressed in caps and gowns furnished by the board of education. High school picnic at Oneida on Saturday. Mostly rads and frills.

Dogs are taboo in Carrollton. All not listed for taxation and at large are killed.

Elmer Brooks, south of here, captured a quail looking for a hen in a chard last Wednesday. It is about the size of a half-grown hen, blue feathered, long talons and a red beak. It bears some resemblance to a heron and may be a species of mud hen. It is exhibited in a cage in front of one of the stores in Canfield.

J. F. Cable, aged 80, who conducted a newspaper here in 1848, came here in his auto last week from Van Wert to see some cemetery work being done at the grave of his sister.

The western part of Carroll county resembles Stark county, from which it was taken in 1848. The northern part resembles Columbiana county, from which it was taken at the same time. The lay of the land around Carrollton is much like that at Washingtonville.

The primary rooms of the Carrollton school held Maypole exercises upon the school campus Friday afternoon. Music was furnished by a graphophone. The kiddies were dressed as though Ephraim Wilson had trained them. About 800 persons witnessed the exercises.

You might mention it to Harry Holland, Harry Hartzell, David Klingensmith and other berry growers about Washingtonville that the crop of strawberries here looks well, and that I count the days until shortcakes are due. Yum-yum!

It has been a long time since I have had any word from Scotch friends, David Summerville and Andrew Muir, but trust they are still among ye in good health. And here is wishing long life to Mrs. Euphemia Maxwell, of whose garden sassa I have eaten many times.

At the county spelling contest held in Carrollton last Saturday Emmett Manfull of Augusta township was declared the best speller in the county. He received a prize of $10 with which to pay his expenses to Columbus where he will represent Carroll county in the state spelling contest on June 2. Manfull's grade was 99. Archie Markley of Carrollton made the second highest grade and was awarded a prize of $5. Only 45 entered the county contest, as the rural schools were poorly represented; two townships were not represented.

The memorial sermon to the local G. A. R. post and other patriotic orders will be preached in the Methodist church by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Sunday. In addition to the union choir and pipe organ the church brass band will furnish patriotic music for the occasion.

Carrollton has a population greater than that of Leontonia; we have no saloons; the mayor works in the rubber plant and the village marshal is more than 81 years old. We have more people over 75 years than any town of its size in Ohio. Twenty-five years ago this place was about the size and importance of Washingtonville, but after the five saloons were voted out it began to grow to its present size and business importance. Now we have too few houses to shelter the people.

It is a place for sad reflection to visit an old and abandoned cemetery in the country, and in the "valley of dry bones," amidst the scenes of death and desolation, to hear the birds sing their solemn requiems o'er the graves of the departed, and to see the sun to inhale the rank fragrance of the illac. Then to read the quaint inscriptions: "Gone but not forgotten" or some quoted passage from the bible or hymnal. We call to memory the once popular verses of Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," and find them true.

Nearly all of us ride some hobby; and hobbies, like measles and smallpox, must break out. I will let mine break out thru the columns of The Mahoning Dispatch. Here is a question: If playgrounds and parks are a good thing for our children, why would they not be equally good for country dwellers? The national government recognizes the importance of reserving some parts of our domain for public parks, but why are they nearly all located in the West? We have 44 national parks and a grand total of 7,290 square miles. Chicago has over $150,000,000 invested in her parks and playgrounds not including boulevards. New York has 175 parks covering 9,000 acres. Cincinnati has 47 parks and playgrounds valued at $5,500,000 with 2,403 acres. Columbus has, besides the state fair grounds (which will likely become a state park) 280 acres. The Ohio superintendent of public welfare said in a letter April 17: "Parks and playgrounds are as essential in the country as in the city." There should be law authorizing at least 80 acres for public use in every township, so that grange and township picnics could be held thereon and country people could compare notes and drive away dull care. PETER M. HEROLD.

The Carroll county fair grounds are in use for some purpose the year around; for at least half the time the track is used for speeding horses, and I have yet to learn that any horse-owner ever got into the J. I. G. class.

Every township should have a high school and a picnic ground, and what the people need they usually get some time.

Eleven more new houses are under construction in Carrollton. The rental prices here range from $12 to $20 a month.

Rev. J. B. Manley of the M. E. Church preached the baccalaureate sermon to our 19 grades in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. The class was dressed in caps and gowns furnished by the board of education. High school picnic at Oneida on Saturday. Mostly rads and frills.

Dogs are taboo in Carrollton. All not listed for taxation and at large are killed.

Elmer Brooks, south of here, captured a quail looking for a hen in a chard last Wednesday. It is about the size of a half-grown hen, blue feathered, long talons and a red beak. It bears some resemblance to a heron and may be a species of mud hen. It is exhibited in a cage in front of one of the stores in Canfield.

J. F. Cable, aged 80, who conducted a newspaper here in 1848, came here in his auto last week from Van Wert to see some cemetery work being done at the grave of his sister.

The western part of Carroll county resembles Stark county, from which it was taken in 1848. The northern part resembles Columbiana county, from which it was taken at the same time. The lay of the land around Carrollton is much like that at Washingtonville.

The primary rooms of the Carrollton school held Maypole exercises upon the school campus Friday afternoon. Music was furnished by a graphophone. The kiddies were dressed as though Ephraim Wilson had trained them. About 800 persons witnessed the exercises.

You might mention it to Harry Holland, Harry Hartzell, David Klingensmith and other berry growers about Washingtonville that the crop of strawberries here looks well, and that I count the days until shortcakes are due. Yum-yum!

It has been a long time since I have had any word from Scotch friends, David Summerville and Andrew Muir, but trust they are still among ye in good health. And here is wishing long life to Mrs. Euphemia Maxwell, of whose garden sassa I have eaten many times.

At the county spelling contest held in Carrollton last Saturday Emmett Manfull of Augusta township was declared the best speller in the county. He received a prize of $10 with which to pay his expenses to Columbus where he will represent Carroll county in the state spelling contest on June 2. Manfull's grade was 99. Archie Markley of Carrollton made the second highest grade and was awarded a prize of $5. Only 45 entered the county contest, as the rural schools were poorly represented; two townships were not represented.

The memorial sermon to the local G. A. R. post and other patriotic orders will be preached in the Methodist church by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Sunday. In addition to the union choir and pipe organ the church brass band will furnish patriotic music for the occasion.

Carrollton has a population greater than that of Leontonia; we have no saloons; the mayor works in the rubber plant and the village marshal is more than 81 years old. We have more people over 75 years than any town of its size in Ohio. Twenty-five years ago this place was about the size and importance of Washingtonville, but after the five saloons were voted out it began to grow to its present size and business importance. Now we have too few houses to shelter the people.

It is a place for sad reflection to visit an old and abandoned cemetery in the country, and in the "valley of dry bones," amidst the scenes of death and desolation, to hear the birds sing their solemn requiems o'er the graves of the departed, and to see the sun to inhale the rank fragrance of the illac. Then to read the quaint inscriptions: "Gone but not forgotten" or some quoted passage from the bible or hymnal. We call to memory the once popular verses of Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," and find them true.

Nearly all of us ride some hobby; and hobbies, like measles and smallpox, must break out. I will let mine break out thru the columns of The Mahoning Dispatch. Here is a question: If playgrounds and parks are a good thing for our children, why would they not be equally good for country dwellers? The national government recognizes the importance of reserving some parts of our domain for public parks, but why are they nearly all located in the West? We have 44 national parks and a grand total of 7,290 square miles. Chicago has over $150,000,000 invested in her parks and playgrounds not including boulevards. New York has 175 parks covering 9,000 acres. Cincinnati has 47 parks and playgrounds valued at $5,500,000 with 2,403 acres. Columbus has, besides the state fair grounds (which will likely become a state park) 280 acres. The Ohio superintendent of public welfare said in a letter April 17: "Parks and playgrounds are as essential in the country as in the city." There should be law authorizing at least 80 acres for public use in every township, so that grange and township picnics could be held thereon and country people could compare notes and drive away dull care. PETER M. HEROLD.

The Carroll county fair grounds are in use for some purpose the year around; for at least half the time the track is used for speeding horses, and I have yet to learn that any horse-owner ever got into the J. I. G. class.

Every township should have a high school and a picnic ground, and what the people need they usually get some time.

Eleven more new houses are under construction in Carrollton. The rental prices here range from $12 to $20 a month.

Rev. J. B. Manley of the M. E. Church preached the baccalaureate sermon to our 19 grades in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. The class was dressed in caps and gowns furnished by the board of education. High school picnic at Oneida on Saturday. Mostly rads and frills.

Dogs are taboo in Carrollton. All not listed for taxation and at large are killed.

Elmer Brooks, south of here, captured a quail looking for a hen in a chard last Wednesday. It is about the size of a half-grown hen, blue feathered, long talons and a red beak. It bears some resemblance to a heron and may be a species of mud hen. It is exhibited in a cage in front of one of the stores in Canfield.

J. F. Cable, aged 80, who conducted a newspaper here in 1848, came here in his auto last week from Van Wert to see some cemetery work being done at the grave of his sister.

The western part of Carroll county resembles Stark county, from which it was taken in 1848. The northern part resembles Columbiana county, from which it was taken at the same time. The lay of the land around Carrollton is much like that at Washingtonville.

The primary rooms of the Carrollton school held Maypole exercises upon the school campus Friday afternoon. Music was furnished by a graphophone. The kiddies were dressed as though Ephraim Wilson had trained them. About 800 persons witnessed the exercises.

You might mention it to Harry Holland, Harry Hartzell, David Klingensmith and other berry growers about Washingtonville that the crop of strawberries here looks well, and that I count the days until shortcakes are due. Yum-yum!

It has been a long time since I have had any word from Scotch friends, David Summerville and Andrew Muir, but trust they are still among ye in good health. And here is wishing long life to Mrs. Euphemia Maxwell, of whose garden sassa I have eaten many times.

At the county spelling contest held in Carrollton last Saturday Emmett Manfull of Augusta township was declared the best speller in the county. He received a prize of $10 with which to pay his expenses to Columbus where he will represent Carroll county in the state spelling contest on June 2. Manfull's grade was 99. Archie Markley of Carrollton made the second highest grade and was awarded a prize of $5. Only 45 entered the county contest, as the rural schools were poorly represented; two townships were not represented.

The memorial sermon to the local G. A. R. post and other patriotic orders will be preached in the Methodist church by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Sunday. In addition to the union choir and pipe organ the church brass band will furnish patriotic music for the occasion.

Carrollton has a population greater than that of Leontonia; we have no saloons; the mayor works in the rubber plant and the village marshal is more than 81 years old. We have more people over 75 years than any town of its size in Ohio. Twenty-five years ago this place was about the size and importance of Washingtonville, but after the five saloons were voted out it began to grow to its present size and business importance. Now we have too few houses to shelter the people.

It is a place for sad reflection to visit an old and abandoned cemetery in the country, and in the "valley of dry bones," amidst the scenes of death and desolation, to hear the birds sing their solemn requiems o'er the graves of the departed, and to see the sun to inhale the rank fragrance of the illac. Then to read the quaint inscriptions: "Gone but not forgotten" or some quoted passage from the bible or hymnal. We call to memory the once popular verses of Gray's "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," and find them true.

Nearly all of us ride some hobby; and hobbies, like measles and smallpox, must break out. I will let mine break out thru the columns of The Mahoning Dispatch. Here is a question: If playgrounds and parks are a good thing for our children, why would they not be equally good for country dwellers? The national government recognizes the importance of reserving some parts of our domain for public parks, but why are they nearly all located in the West? We have 44 national parks and a grand total of 7,290 square miles. Chicago has over $150,000,000 invested in her parks and playgrounds not including boulevards. New York has 175 parks covering 9,000 acres. Cincinnati has 47 parks and playgrounds valued at $5,500,000 with 2,403 acres. Columbus has, besides the state fair grounds (which will likely become a state park) 280 acres. The Ohio superintendent of public welfare said in a letter April 17: "Parks and playgrounds are as essential in the country as in the city." There should be law authorizing at least 80 acres for public use in every township, so that grange and township picnics could be held thereon and country people could compare notes and drive away dull care. PETER M. HEROLD.

The Carroll county fair grounds are in use for some purpose the year around; for at least half the time the track is used for speeding horses, and I have yet to learn that any horse-owner ever got into the J. I. G. class.

Every township should have a high school and a picnic ground, and what the people need they usually get some time.

Eleven more new houses are under construction in Carrollton. The rental prices here range from $12 to $20 a month.

Rev. J. B. Manley of the M. E. Church preached the baccalaureate sermon to our 19 grades in the Presbyterian church Sunday night. The class was dressed in caps and gowns furnished by the board of education. High school picnic at Oneida on Saturday. Mostly rads and frills.

Dogs are taboo in Carrollton. All not listed for taxation and at large are killed.

Elmer Brooks, south of here, captured a quail looking for a hen in a chard last Wednesday. It is about the size of a half-grown hen, blue feathered, long talons and a red beak. It bears some resemblance to a heron and may be a species of mud hen. It is exhibited in a cage in front of one of the stores in Canfield.

J. F. Cable, aged 80, who conducted a newspaper here in 1848, came here in his auto last week from Van Wert to see some cemetery work being done at the grave of his sister.

The western part of Carroll county resembles Stark county, from which it was taken in 1848. The northern part resembles Columbiana county, from which it was taken at the same time. The lay of the land around Carrollton is much like that at Washingtonville.

The primary rooms of the Carrollton school held Maypole exercises upon the school campus Friday afternoon. Music was furnished by a graphophone. The kiddies were dressed as though Ephraim Wilson had trained them. About 800 persons witnessed the exercises.

You might mention it to Harry Holland, Harry Hartzell, David Klingensmith and other berry growers about Washingtonville that the crop of strawberries here looks well, and that I count the days until shortcakes are due. Yum-yum!

It has been a long time since I have had any word from Scotch friends, David Summerville and Andrew Muir, but trust they are still among ye in good health. And here is wishing long life to Mrs. Euphemia Maxwell, of whose garden sassa I have eaten many times.

At the county spelling contest held in Carrollton last Saturday Emmett Manfull of Augusta township was declared the best speller in the county. He received a prize of $10 with which to pay his expenses to Columbus where he will represent Carroll county in the state spelling contest on June 2. Manfull's grade was 99. Archie Markley of Carrollton made the second highest grade and was awarded a prize of $5. Only 45 entered the county contest, as the rural schools were poorly represented; two townships were not represented.

The memorial sermon to the local G. A. R. post and other patriotic orders will be preached in the Methodist church by Rev. K. J. Stewart, pastor of the Presbyterian church at 10:30 next Sunday. In addition to the union choir and pipe organ the church brass band will furnish patriotic music for the occasion.

Carrollton has a population greater than that of Leontonia; we have no saloons; the mayor works in the rubber plant and the village marshal is more than 81 years old. We